

WOMEN BACK WAR
ON GAUZY GOWNS

Catholic League Takes New Orleans Incident as Expressive of Its Own Precepts.

The action of Father Antoine of his parish St. Louis Cathedral in New Orleans, in sending a bride from the altar to put on a gown more in accordance with his conception of true modesty finds indorsement among Catholic women in New York, if the League of Catholic Women is to be accepted as their representative.

"Father Antoine was distinctly right," said Miss Teresa O'Donohue, President of the League. "Naturally I feel very sorry for the bride who was so humiliated, but she seems to be like other girls who regard what is said to them from the altar on the subject of dress as merely to be considered and decided according to their own views."

"The Catholic League has been doing all in its power to check the tendency of women to parade in gowns that seem to have their two ends racing toward a common vanishing point."

REWARD REVEALS
ANOTHER HOLD UP

Baxter Street Merchant Robbed in His Store of Money and Jewelry — Says Police Suppressed News.

Lack of faith in Police Commissioner Burleigh's plan of suppressing crime news to-day led Theodore Boselli, proprietor of a shoe store at No. 1 Baxter Street, to reveal that he was robbed by two bandits in his store yesterday. He offered a $100 reward for the return of jewelry valued at $1,250.

Boselli said he had just opened his store when two men carrying automatic pistols entered. Boselli did not argue with them. After taking a $1,000 diamond ring from his finger, $200 in cash and a $50 gold watch from his pockets, the robbers bound him with ropes and left him in the back of his store, Boselli said. After fifteen minutes he worked himself loose and, being unable to find a policeman, telephoned Police Headquarters. A detective, he said, visited him and heard the story of the robbery.

$100,000 WORTH OF
LIQUOR PROVES
"WHITE ELEPHANT"

House Containing It for Sale, But Booze Can't Be Sold, Used Nor Removed.

CHICAGO, June 18.—DISPOSITION of liquor said to be valued at $100,000, stored in the basement of the residence of the late George F. Griffin, in the exclusive "Gold Coast" district, to-day was puzzling Federal authorities. A buyer for the house is being sought, but the liquor, according to law, cannot enter into the deal.

It cannot be removed because of the Illinois Search and Seizure Law. The widow might retain ownership of the liquor, but she could not use it after the sale, because that would mean its removal.

In the mean time two men are guarding the entrances to the basement.

JAIL FOR THEATRE MASHERS.

Girl Unhappily Says One Tripped Her After Insult by Other.

"Come on, sweetheart, sit with me."

was the greeting that Alexander Hamilton of No. 13 Woodhall Street extended, Miss Sylvia Brown, an usher in the Olympic Theatre of Brooklyn when she entered a box last night to ask to examine her ticket. Miss Brown started away to report to the manager and Hubert Fernando of No. 371 Columbia Street, Brooklyn, tripped her, she told Magistrate Geismar in Adams Street Court to-day, causing her to fall down a flight of stairs to the parquet floor.

Miss Brown said she knew neither of the men. The Court gave them each ten days in the Workhouse.
